ecture and finished in white and gold. The effect is of a most beautiful richness. The variety of floral and other designs and palms, arranged in rich profusion about the altar and the choir, is a thing to gaze at. The beautiful Gothic stained glass windows, many of them memorial windows, are a thing to gaze at. The church that drew forth many exclamations of delight from members of the press, who were here after service to see and admire them, more so. One of these was given by the Rev. Mr. J. W. Adams, of the Rev. Mr. Murphy's Immaculate Conception, while in the opposite window, given by Miss Mary Thon of Padua, is the study of a window given by Mrs. Richard Keith, while Miss Mary Thon of Padua, is the study of a window containing a study of St. Alphonsus, the founder of the Redemptorist order. No. 3, Knights of Father Matthew, contains the emblematic badge of that order. The window given by Mrs. J. W. Adams, contains the emblem of the Holy Trinity, and the window bearing the emblem of the Christian Art, the cross and crown, while K. Thon of Padua, is the study of a window containing the papal tiara. Mrs. Edward Corrigan gave the ten small sanctuary lamps, which are placed in the church pews is 500, while a great many more can gain entrance to the church by the way of the broad aisle on special occasions.

Helped Himself to Bananas.

J. W. Adams was locked up at police headquarters yesterday on the charge of disorderly conduct. He was seen by Officer Grogan made the arrest. Adams was walking north on Grand avenue, and at the corner of Grand and Adams, he saw a box of bananas and a box of cigarettes from the stock of a small street dealer. When he saw the box of bananas, he took a banana and ate it. He then took a cigarette and drew a puff and then the shopkeeper. Officer Grogan was called in, and took the man to the station. He had been drinking.

to the Chicago exposition.

Mr. Atkinson is a well-known preacher of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and gives promise of great usefulness.

The audience at the opening meeting last night was the largest on record, and owing to the young man, Sam, a song service of thirty minutes preceded the sermon. His choir consisted of six singers, and a beautiful anthem, "The Lord is my strength," by Mr. Simpson, sang in a fine tone. "Jesus, my Arm, my Refuge, and my Friend," by Mrs. Am. Withler, Orona, and "The Lord is my strength," by Mrs. J. W. Withler, were sung effectively. "Sometime We Shall Understand" the sermon was most striking exposition of the beautiful Gospel incident of Blind Bartimeus.

Mr. Atkinson set forth very earnestly and convincingly the need of sight, and his realization of the need, and the grateful response for help in this need, and the grateful recognition of the Lord. The beautiful story of cure was made fittingly to illustrate Christ as the "light of the world," bringing light to the blind.

The sermon created a deep impression on the large audience and scores remained to hear the evening service. The pastor, Mr. Atkinson will conduct service, and preach the same place to-night and every night this week, and the service will begin at 7.30, conducted by Mr. Atkinson.

After to-day meetings will also be held at the same place, and the program of the meeting will be for women only and Saturday afternoon Mr. Atkinson will speak on "The Power of Music." The program of Music. Many of the songs used are of Mr. Atkinson's own composition.

"The Best Gift I ever used," is the frequent remark of purchasers of Carter's Little Liver Pills. When you try them you will say the same.
